EVERETT CHAUTAUQUA

The Everett Chautauqua begins next week and will be held on the Public School grounds. The numbers are of the best and will be appreciated by everybody. On Wednesday evening next, a boosters tour will be made to Bedford and a public gathering will be held on the Public Square. Everybody out for the reception. Everett gives Bedford splendid support and Bedford should extend the courtesy by helping Everett. President Wilson says, save, but do not neglect your educational welfare. What would we do, if we thought of war all the time. Take a little recreation and attend the Chautauqua. Bedford had a great Chautauqua this year, and we feel especially thankful to John R. Dull, for his energy in the matter and Everett can do as well. Get together and boost for the Chautauqua.

HOME! Kulturized

AMERICAN MACHINE MEN WIPE OUT BATTALION OF GERMAN INFANTRYMEN

American machine gunners protecting a location on the Vesle, west of Fismes, wiped out an entire battalion of German infantrymen and machine gunners today. The Germans, at the time, were getting into position to attack a group of American bridge builders who were approaching the location.

Some bridge material already had been moved near the south bank of the Vesle and the Germans, apparently discovering this fact, had sent a battalion to hill position to prevent the Americans from carrying out their plan. A detachment of crack American machine gunners, however, previously had taken an elevated position commanding the location and opened fire when the Germans appeared.

Observers reported that they did not see a single German get away from the leaden hail, and, according to the last accounts, not even enemy stretcher bearers approached the scene. The Germans replied so feebly with their fire because of the surprise, that there were no American casualties.

Picnic at Piney Creek

A big picnic will be held at Piney Creek in Mann township Saturday, August 10. Prominent speakers have been invited and they fully expect a big day.

ARANDALE BALL BIG SUCCESS

Most Sensational Dance in Bedford for years

The Grand Ball held at the Arandale Hotel, now under management of "Hoffman's" was considered by every one present as one of the most sensational dances that has been held at Bedford for years.

All parts of Pennsylvania and Maryland were represented, Cumberland and Frostburg were especially represented, there being twelve automobile loads of Cumberland's most popular young people and five car loads from Frostburg. A goodly number of cars from Myersdale, Johnstown, Altoona, Huntingdon, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Everett supplied a goodly number to the enthusiastic dancers.

The ball-room was beautifully decorated with red, white and blue tapestry, with a background of evergreens. A clever feature of the evening were the "Moon-light waltzes" all lights were turned out and the moon-light effect was produced by two large American flags, with small electric lights placed in them, while very beautiful, they gave the dancers just enough light to be seen.

The "irresistible" music given by Irvin Saxophone Orchestra of Altoona, was heartily pronounced by all as the best ragtime, "Jazz" music to which they had ever danced. The real cleverness of these young musicians is unsurpassed and they are in an "A-No. 1" class of their own.

Owing to the big success of this dance the management has been urged to, and will give another one on a larger scale, on Thursday, August 22nd, 1918. Two more will be held at a later date, one on Labor Day and another some time in September.

TRUCK TRAIN TO STOP

AT ARANDALE

Arrangements have been made for a truck train of soldiers to stop at the Arandale Hotel, on Saturday, August 17, the Commanding Officer having made arrangements with the management to give the "Boys" a treat, so a big dance has been arranged for them. Girls now is your chance to do your "bit" and show the boys "going over" the time of their lives.

SNYDER'S TRAVELETTE MORE BOYS LEAVE

When at Breezewood I stopped at a home for dinner not knowing who lived there but it proved to be H. G. Clark who is married to a daughter of the late Simon Shaffer. Her mother was there whom I had not seen for a long while I enjoyed the visit as I believe all did. I then drove to the old town of Rays Hill. The store here has been in the Nycum family for over a hundred years. First John Nycum, then Simon then John Q. Nycum the present owner but conducted by his son John Rush Nycum. Some of the store furniture is a hundred years old including a chair and desk which bids fair to last as long as the Nycums do. I couldn't induce the old Gentleman John Q. to read the Gazette. He said it was a Democrat paper and he couldn't repent at his age. Rays Hill town is close to the foot of Rays Hill mountain on the Lincoln Highway. They told me the Governor of Massachusetts was born there. All governors had to be born somewhere. Had he stayed at Rays Hill he might have become Mayor. Breezewood about a mile from Rays Hill on the Lincoln Highway is somewhat of a larger town than Rays Hill. W. E. Swartzwelder is postmaster and his father carries on rural route. Mrs. J. A. Truax conducts a good boarding house here. George Rhea is the leading town farmer. Bryan would call him an agriculturist. He married one of my former pupils, Mary Shaw who keeps him in the path of rectitude all right.

Leaving the breezy town I cut again out into the township I reached Henry S. Foor's at dinner, where I got a good dinner and $1.50 besides. I had a long talk with Ezekiel Woy and a cup of good hot coffee from his good wife to cure my headache for the day was hot and I had posthum for breakfast. I would like to shoot that man Post for inventing the stuff called posthum but he is dead already I stopped a night with William C. Crawford who owns the old Morgart farm near the pike and lives in the old tavern house where George Washington used to stop. He was much pleased to have another great man stop there who never told any lies for such are very, very very scarce anymore, dont you know.

While at Harry Wilt's near Breezewood a storm came up. While Mr. Wilt and I were sitting in the room watching the rain the lightning played some pranks. One stroke lit up my face and the other knocked him in the ear. Then we ran out to see what else had happened and there was nothing. After this we will get farther from the telephone during storms so his wife said.

I went out on Clear Ridge one day from Everett stopping along the way Mrs. Charles Williams was working like a man mowing the yard, while Charley was in the field plowing and the children playing about? I drove over to Harry Dodsons and found them just ready for eats. Mrs. Dodson is the most attentive woman I have found. She brushed the flies off my bald head while I ate supper, then we sat up and told stories till one o'clock. She didn't tell any she only listened. She never laughs except when she is tickled over something. Their son Veryl seems to have some attraction about Clearville. When at another house I saw a young fellow going toward Mann Township late at night. When a neighbor woman saw him at that hour and knowing how far he had to go yet, she remarked she would not like to be such a long distance beau, but it won't be long.

RUMOR OF THROUGH TRAIN TO CUMBERLAND FROM HUNTINGDON

There is a ripple in conversational circles that a through train service will be installed from Huntingdon to Cumberland as the service exist previous to the completion of the Midland from Bedford to Altoona. In that event passengers will have to change cars when going to and from between Altoona and Cumberland.

It is quite likely that the management of the Broad Top and Pennsylvania Midland will be consolidated and that the offices for both roads will be in Bedford. This will bring Mr. Yohn of Huntingdon to Bedford likely along with other officials. What will be forthcoming from the Everett rumor of some weeks ago we do not know but the change may make or brake that conjecture. We understand that Mr. Derrick still has the option on the old tannery site.

22 of these men left for Camp Wadsworth, -Spartansburg, S. C., Thursday, August 8, 8:57 a. m.

William Wemsickle, Bedford, Rt. 4. Samuel E. Kelly, Saxton. Karl Luther Besser, Cypher Herman R. Northcraft, Flintstone, 1 Edward H. Price, Bedford, Rt. 3 Edgar R. O'Neal, Chaneyville Joseph S. Croyle, Schellsburg Harry W. Bloom, Cessna Harry F. Koontz, Lutzville, Rt. 1 Earl L. Hoopengardner, Bedford James A. Miller, Cumberland Valley Archibald Miller, Saxton Carl A. Mearkle, Clearville Alva Lewis Sowers, Artemas Martin J. Seifert, Schellsburg William Chtes, Hyndman Andrew E. Bennett, Gilpen, Md. Harvey S. Oldham, Claysburg Guy V. Mock, Baker's Summit Blair E. Dicken, Clearville, Rt. 1. Roy Bennett, Everett, Rt. 3 Harry H. Dibert, Bedford David E. Thomas, Defiance Ross Moses, Imber George E. Martin, Artemas Jacob Dunkle, Everett, Rt. 1, will go for special training to University of Pittsburgh, Aug. 15.

EFFORT FOR BETTER MAIL SERVICE

There is an effort being made to have two mails at Piney Creek, one to connect with Everett as at present and the other to connect with Belle Grove, Md. This is following the suggestion of the Gazette a year or more ago. Then we suggested that the mail carrier, now starting at Inglesmith, start at Piney Creek, go to Inglesmith, and follow his present course and let the carrier starting at Silver Mills go to Piney Creek, over to Artemas, out the mountain to Chapman's Run and stop there and let a free delivery start at Clearville, go out by Chapman's Run taking the mail for Artemas, Piney Creek, Purcell, Silver Mills, Inglesmith and other points in there and collecting the mail brought there from those points and taking it around on the route down by Stoney Lick School house over by Cleé to Chaneyville and back the Barkman Ridge. This would connect all those towns down in that section and give the people on two highways from Clearville to Chaneyville daily mail instead of a day late. Of course there will be some disadvantages in this scheme and you cannot present a plan which does not have disadvantages for some one. This idea would serve more people than any we can suggest. The Star Route carrier, Mr. Wigfield could distribute mail both ways and give the patrons along his course daily mail. Think this plan over and if it serves the people best get right after it. There is still another way to get these people better mail service than they have at present, and any one knows they have the poorest in the country, and that is to have a rural route to start at Chapman's Run and go down in that country. Rural routes must start as near the centre of distribution as possible in order to get as early start as possible and the centre of distribution for this district is Everett. Everett business people ought to welcome this plan, support it heartily and get busy.

$100 RED CROSS MONEY RAISED AT FESTIVAL

The Red Cross festival held in the basement of St. Paul's church, Cessna under the auspices of the Volunteer Bible class was well attended and a goodly sum was realized. The proceeds amounted to $100. Much credit is due the people of the community for their prompt response and willingness to help.

M. P. CONVENTION

The Methodist Protestant church will hold a convention at Union Grove in lower Cumberland Valley, Wednesday, August 21, if not raining, otherwise, it will be held, Thursday, 22. A cordial invitation is extended to the general public.

Biddle-Moore

Last Thursday afternoon at the parsonage of Trinity Lutheran Church, the Rev. C. R. Allenbach officiating, Mr. Francis O. Biddle and Miss Ethel P. Moore, both of Bedford, Pa., were united in marriage. There were no attendants.

Wolfsburg Emergency Aid

Will hold a festival on the School grounds Thursday evening, August 15. Ice Cream, war cake, sandwiches and coffee will be served. The Junior Aid will have charge of a fish pond.

MRS. MARIA MIXEL Everett

Last Tuesday morning Mrs. Maria Mixel died at home of her daughter in Monroe township, Mrs. Shelly Logue. She was aged 85 years, 6 months and 4 days. She was first married to Henry Welsh, and had 12 children born to them: Mrs. Ross Lee, of Ellerslie, Md.; Mrs. W. H. Ault, of Wampum, Pa.; Mrs. Sarah Kline, of Green Castle, Mrs. William Davis, of Saluvia; Mrs. Wilham Shea, of New York; Mrs. Christ Spade, of Emmaville; Chas. A. Welsh, of Everett; Mrs. Chas. E. Diehl, of Everett; Mrs. Shelly Logue of Clearville Rt. 1; Raymond of Camp Lee, and Russell at home. She was married the second time to Samuel Mixel and lived in Monroe township for several years. William Bequeath of Everett is a surviving brother. The funeral was at Rock Hill Saturday, Rev. J. R. Logue conducting it.

ESPY SILVERS Nebraska

Last Sunday, August 4, Espy Silvers, of Sutton, Nebraska, died and his remains were brought forward to Bedford, arriving here yesterday for burial. He was born on March 7, 1856 in Bedford Borough and was the son of Asa Silvers. In the 70's he married Naoma Pierson to which union there are three children living, Misses Maude and Rachel and John, all of Sutton. His wife and one brother, John, of Sutton, also survive. He has many near relatives in this country and was a man of prominence. He was a student at the Rainburg Academy in his early days and was an intelligent as well as a wealthy farmer and stock dealer. He at one time owned the farm now owned by James Arnold on the Cessna pike. His daughter, Miss Maude and his brother, John and Miss Josephine Silvers came to the funeral which was held direct from the train Rev. Allenbach, of the Lutheran Church conducting the funeral.

DAVID GOGLEY Everett

David Gogley, of Everett, died last Friday aged 71 years, 9 months, and 24 days. He was born in Everett, and is survived by his wife, and the following children: Mrs. M. R. Bubb, of Port Allegheny, Mrs. J. J. R. Sponsler, of Altoona, J. Logan Gogley, of Philadelphia and a brother, Jacob Gogley of Everett. Funeral services were conducted by M. M. Keim, of Reading.

Somewhere in France June 24, 1918.

Dear Mother:- Just a few lines to let you know I am well and like France very well as long as I don't have it any harder than I have it now.

We are riding all the time and have been very nearly all over France. We have seen a lot since we left the States.

We are not in the trenches yet and I don't know when we will go in them.

I haven't seen any of the Everett boys yet but I may see them any day. We have been on the road for the last few days. We saw several little towns and villages on our way. They are very nice villages and we generally stop at night.

We expect to move soon again and I will write a longer letter next time. We move very nearly every day but my address does not change.

We can get American tobacco and different other things.

I will close for this time. With love and best wishes to all.

Your son, George Fisher

George is the youngest of three brothers. 21 in France. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, Bedford. George is only 18 years old now and was with Co. L. of Bedford.

Birthday Party

On Monday evening quite a number of young folks gathered at the home of Miss Clara Mills, of South Richard St., in honor of her birthday the following were present.

Misses Edna Heiple, Ola Heiple, Ethel Davis, Rita Four, Margaret Deffenbaugh, Ella Crouse, Sarah Bowser, Catherine Snell, Virginia Snell, Clara Mills; Fannie Bennett, Marguerite Ott and Olive Rissard of Everett. Messrs Chas. Eicholtz, Clarence Bailey, Cyril Bingham, Geo. Bowser, Geo. Souser, Geo. Gibboey, Lester Mills, Mrs. Jennie Snell, Katherine Stekman, Minnie Rook, Annie Yount, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Doner of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Dear and son, Jack, of Pittsburgh. All report a very enjoyable time.

MENTIONED IN BRIEF

Town Talk and Neighborhood Note Tersely Told.

MANY ITEMS OF INTEREST

Cleaned From Various Sources— Little Points Picked Up By Vigilant Reporters.

The organ recital in St. James Church last Tuesday evening was an all round success the church was well filled and had the weather not been so intensely hot it is quite likely that the edifice would have been completely filled.

The beautiful church so well designed was artistically adorned with luxuriant plants and floral decorations. The Gladiolus Ferns and wild flowers made a delightful effect.

It is seldom, even in larger cities that one can hear organ playing or singing showing such taste and skill.

Mrs. Henderson Points—"Chorus of Angels" was played with particular inspiration and an interpretation difficult to improve or match this organist and Miss Stivers and Miss Schuck were also the accompanists. They made it possible for the vocalists to do their best work. The organ Solos Pilgrim Chorus & King Dream by Miss Durbin Shuck were played with broad interpretation making a magnetic impression.

The Committee on music have to be particularly grateful to the Violinists Miss Bell & Miss Gould. These clever musicians played with only a few hours notice and without their repertoire of the big numbers they are accustomed to play it seems both young ladies have recently returned from a concert tour and although the trunk containing their music has not arrived they were compelled to play from music on hand which they did ably, flexibly and with fine tone quality Mrs. Jacobs brilliant and ringing voice is always a feature where ever she appears. Besides two numbers she sang a solo by Burrell with credit to herself and satisfaction and enjoyment to her hearers.

Miss Lillian Stock made a decided impression. A good contralto voice is rare and a voice of excellent qualities recently developed by Miss Stock should be welcomed. Campbell Pitton a Spirit Flower, evidenced her ability.

The prayer song sung as an opening number showed that the Rev. Mr. Connop is a singer gifted with a Baritone Cantata voice of great charm rich and soft, clear and distinct in his enunciation.

The singing of America closed a Recital that was enjoyable and memorable.

Kelley L. Cavender and Earl W. Smith, of Purcell, enlisted Tuesday, July 30, and left Monday for Columbus, O., to take instruction in automobile service.

Herman I. Hamm, of Saxton, has been reported as severely wounded at the battle front and Arthur B. Jenkins, of Hyndman, is missing from the ranks. Somerset county boys have paid a heavy toll in the last week or more. They belonged mainly to the 110th Regiment which has been in front line.

...demonstrations will be held at Pleasantville, Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 14; Osterburg and St. Clairsville Wednesday evening, Osterburg Band Hall, Imber, Thursday evening, Aug. 15; Schellsburg, Friday afternoon, Aug. 16; Baltato Mills, Friday evening, Aug. 16; Bedford, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 17; Woodbury, Saturday evening, Aug. 17. All demonstrations are for canning cold.

Wm. and Baltzger Snyder, Walter Clark, Jacob Rice, Elea Clark, Misses Jennie Rice, Della Williams, Caroline Snyder, Mrs. Jacob Rice and Mrs. Daniel Miller were in attendance at Methodist day at Lakemont Park last Thursday and took in some of Altoona or Altoona took them in rather. They all got back sober so the neighbors say.

Governor Brumbaugh may be elected to the Presidency of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa. Dr. John H. Harris has handed his resignation to the board of trustees and the possibilities of Dr. Brumbaugh succeeding him are very favorable. ...tution is of the Baptist denomination and Governor Brumbaugh is of the German Baptist, Brethren. His recent appointment of Ex-Judge McClure a great factor in Bucknell affairs to a place on the Public Service Commission is said to be in anticipation of help to gain the Presidency of the institution. HOGWALLOW NEWS

DUNK BOTTS, Regular Correspondent.

Some Where, July 1918

The Postmaster at Hogwallow has just received notice that the government has renewed the lease on the postoffice building for another ten years. He says this another case in which the government has been swamped; that the building cannot possibly stand up more than another year even with favorable weather conditions.

Hurrah for our home boys! Mike Go-a-Little has accepted a lucrative position as general superintendent of the field service of the Bedford Ice Co. and may now be seen driving the ice wagon to and fro. His many friends are invited to watch him go by. He will leave Monday.

The Clearville preacher says he finds that a lot of his members have got spider webs on them.

One of the most important news items we have been compelled to chronicle in some time is the announcement that Vic Barkman has decided to reach his hair on the left side from now on. He does this to hide the place where Bill Brice hit him with brass knucks.

A swarm of bees got after Phil Peck the other day and chased him some distance. It is conceded in Hogwallow that the bees showed very poor judgment in their selection of a place to settle.

Adam Shearer of Buffalo Rt. 1 says a persons mind must be a wonderful thing, for us to be able to stand over here and think across the ocean. The Buffalo school teacher will be asked for an opinion on it.

Dave Dillard who has been driving a young steer to a cart has succumbed to the rapid advances of civilization and sold out and quit business.

Sim-a-a-Bout thinks times are going to get better right along from now on for a fellow that does not work, as the fish are biting good and the prospects are good for a fine nut crop.

Rats entered Marian Weicht's corn crib the other night and carried off all his corn. The Deputy Sheriff has been put to work on the case.

The Old Miser near New Buena who buried a few dollars in his garden one night last week, has sent up an alarm. It is gone. Tobe Moseley says such things should be planted in the dark of the moon.

Mrs. John Moseby says she can maintain her reputation for bravery and cool-headedness as long as a mouse don't get on her.

Wade Figard has the biggest muscles in the neighborhood (but he can't spell worth a cent.)

Verle Dodson is getting to be such a sport and night owl, it is a big wonder he don't go to Clearville and get a job of blowing out the street lamps after all prudent people have gone to bed.

A hog grunts a lot but you never hear of one taking patent medicine.

A marriage is suspected here in the near future. The groom was once of more or less prominence in and around Hog Wallow. No names have been made public.

Harry Barton was heard practicing on a new song Tuesday night. He is expecting to be called on to sing a solo at the Mt. Union church Sunday.

SCHELLSBURG

W. S. Whitmore of Clymer was a recent guest of his mothers Mrs. Mary Whitmore.

Mrs. J. G. Slack and daughters and Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Zickow of Pittsburgh are visiting at F. H. Slacks.

Mr. Huber and family and Mr. Irvin Donnell and family of Lancaster registered at the Western Hotel and were calling on relatives and friends Sunday and Monday.

W. C. Colvin and family and Mrs. Hubert Colvin and son left Tuesday for Gettysburg to meet their son and the latters husband who is going overland from his camp in N. C. to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Culp of Pittsburgh are guests of his cousin C. B. Culp and family.

The remains of Mrs. H. H. Luken of Coffeyville, Kansas will be brought to Everett to be buried on Wednesday. Mr. H. H. is a brother of Mr. J. E. Luken of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bigelow and son of Pittsburgh were recent guests of Mrs. Bigelow's the Misses Ealy.

A number of our town people attended Camp Meeting at Pine Grove on Sunday.

Plummer Beagle of Braddock spent a few hours in town on Sunday.

We are having the hottest weather we have had for years. The thermometer registering 104 in the shade. Rain is needed very soon or there will be a short corn crop.

Miss Gertrude Ross of Philadelphia is visiting her grandmother Mrs. L. A. Ross.

Miss Louise Shaffer of Frostburg is spending a short time with her aunt Mrs. W. L. Van Ormer.

Rev. A. B. Van Ormer and family of Altoona and Mrs. Edna Van Ormer and daughter of Bedford were recent visitors of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Van Ormer.

CUMBERLAND VALLEY

Mr. Bert Reed of West Fairfield and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hammond and children Harry, Viola and Kenneth of Bolivar spent Saturday and Sunday with J. W. Howard and family of Cumberland Valley. They also visited Mr. Reeds sister Mrs. Harvey Hanlin of Boswell. They made the trip in Hammond's auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Oster and son of Cumberland Valley and Miss Rosie Hite visited relatives in Cumberland Md. on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bowman of Cumberland Valley had an auto load of visitors from Meyersdale over Sunday.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Deeply grateful for the very great honor conferred upon me by the Democracy of Pennsylvania, and sensible of the grave responsibilities resting upon me, I take this opportunity to present to the people of our Commonwealth those matters which I deem of major importance in this campaign.

The uniform primary law having supplanted State conventions, and there existing no recognized body within the Commonwealth authorized to enunciate the issues of a campaign it therefore devolves upon the nominee for Governor to state the rule of conduct by which, if he shall be elected, his official action will be regulated.

Win the War

The world conflict for human liberties and progress, in which the United States is now engaged, demands of every citizen the absolute dedication of all that he is and has for the support of our Government, to the end that complete and lasting victory may be secured for our ideals; and I deem it my duty to say that to this degree of patriotic devotion I believe that my compatriots of different political faith are equally willing to pledge themselves to our country's cause.

I pledge myself to the most earnest and untiring support of the worthy compeer of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, the leader in world thought today—our great President Woodrow Wilson.

Our first care, therefore, should be to see that the whole strength of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be used in cooperation with the United States Government to secure the triumph of democracy in its present death grapple with autocracy and tyranny.

As Democrats we reaffirm our devotion to the old-time Democratic principle of loyalty to the Constitution of the United States as the great charter of our national liberties, and we emphatically declare our opposition to needless amendments to that time-honored work of the fathers of our country.

Republican Pretense

Disappointing experience has proved that genuine reform is impossible through either Republican faction. Each admits that the other is accused by crimes of treachery and violence to gain and retain power, for the plunder of the Commonwealth and its municipalities.

Temporarily ignoring their quarrels over division of the spoil, the several party chiefs are again united, with ignoble energy and craft, to prevent the Government from being entrusted to faithful officials. They are ambushed behind the pretense of excessive morality.

The same wily manipulators who have thwarted practical measures for social improvements now, with unblushing effrontery, appeal for preferment because of their professed suddenly acquired sanctity as apostles of temperance. With a cynical insincerity, unusual even in Republican circles, appeal is now made to one class of voters because Republican candidates pretend to favor the prohibition amendment; while the support of the other class is expected, because of records which ought to be satisfactory to the most antagonistic opponent.

Personal Rights Inviolable

I reaffirm without qualification my preprohibitory declaration: That the prohibition amendment raises squarely the question of self-government; that it is clear violation of the spirit of the Constitution of the United States and an unwarranted interference with the rights of the individual States; and that the founders of the Union believed, as the steadfast Democrat still believes, that each State should act for itself in all matters affecting its internal morality.

The thoughtful American, seeing in the unparalleled growth, strength and harmony existing in our Union of States a signal proof of the wisdom of its constitutional system, should gravely hesitate before he approves a tendency which may destroy it. Every specific declaration in the Constitution, as well as every ratified amendment, is declaratory of a human right. It is proposed by the pending amendment, for the first time in American history, to deny a heretofore unchallenged personal right. If one right may be denied, other or all rights may be brought within the ban, making our boasted freedom a hollow mockery, a cover for despotism.

Domestic Legislation

To enjoy the full measure of our boundless wealth, population and resources, there are many matters of internal concern requiring legislative correction, to which I pledge myself. A just appreciation of the loyal and indispensable parts filled by labor and agriculture in this world crisis calls for a statement of my position toward those bodies and their measures.

What are they?

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips are made of a combination of three parts of pure soap and one part pure Borax. Borax softens the water—soft water cleanses more thoroughly and saves labor. It's the Borax with the soap that does the work.

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips are the only form of soap that will retain such a large percentage (25%) of Borax.

No soap cutting to do when you use 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips. They dissolve quickly. An 8-oz. package will do the work of 25c worth of ordinary laundry soap.

20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips will not mar the daintiest fabrics and will not shrink wools, flannels, sweaters, etc.

To make genuine soap paste, good for all washing purposes, add one quart of boiling water to three heaping tablespoonfuls of 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips.

The Most Economical Form of General Household Soap in the World.

Labor

I shall oppose without compromise the repeal of the full-crew law, or of any other law which protects the life, safety or prosperity of the workers of Pennsylvania.

I shall support legislation providing for a comprehensive employees' insurance against sickness and old age.

When peace is restored there cannot be a return to the economic conditions which were so rapidly widening the chasm between capital and labor. The producers—whether from the soil or from manual toil—are unquestionably entitled to a full and fair share in the products of their labor. The State should provide for the adequate representation of labor and agriculture on the Public Service Commission, the Compensation Board and all other bodies dealing with either the products or the personal welfare of these great bodies. The period of waiting should be reduced in the compensation law to one week, and the payments should be not less than two-thirds of the injured employee's earnings.

I would seek an efficient method for the establishment of direct relations between the producer and the consumer.

Highways and Waterways

The re-establishment of the waterways of Pennsylvania, their expansion and intelligent operation and a practical and scientific construction of good roads, located solely because of the needs of the community, and not to serve the speculative or special purposes of some interest, rigorously divorced from political or contractual interests, will be matters of my keenest attention.

Economy

I shall insist upon practical measures, sincerely enforced, to prune out idle offices, reduce excessive salaries and enforce rigid economy in all departments, and that appointment and promotion in the civil service of the State shall be upon proof of fitness to perform the duties required, and not because of loyalty to any boss or faction.

Social Welfare

I shall favor generous appropriations for the maintenance and necessary enlargement of our great systems of asylums and hospitals.

The right of each child to a liberal education is inherent and undeniable. The amazing progress of America in science, invention and development, and the skill of the toilers, alike owe an inexpressable debt to the little red schoolhouse and to its pupils. The maintenance and extension of the public school system; adequate pay for its teachers; a proper provision for their pensioning; a just recognition of the value of our great State College and normal schools and their liberal support, shall all be objects of my solicitous care.

In full sympathy with the aim sought by the compulsory education act, it cannot, nevertheless, be denied that in our great centers of population the execution of the law in its present form works a cruel hardship upon many deserving families, requiring them to suffer privation in clothing and food or become violators of the law. The act should be amended to provide, in proper cases, an allowance from the County Commissioners to supplement the family income, so that the body may not be starved while the mind is fed.

I favor the establishment of a living wage for all workers, without regard to sex.

The prodigal contribution of Pennsylvania to the cause of humanity, in its sterling manhood, its wealth, resources and products, generously given, cannot cease at the return of peace. Thousands of our heroic sons, returning from service, will require our tender solicitude. No son of Pennsylvania should be permitted to regret the day he answered the call of liberty. Great reconstruction hospitals and training schools should now be provided for, and the revenues sought to maintain in honorable condition every enlisted son of our Commonwealth, and, if necessity requires, their dependent ones.

Reform Philadelphia

I pledge myself to a revision of the charter of the city of Philadelphia. The present system is antiquated; it has been the source of scandal in the abuse of power. This instrument must be revised in such a way as to give broad powers to the city, allow-the fullest measure of self-government, and so arranged as to destroy the vicious political system, founded on contracts and the abuse of the privilege of power, which now shames our whole Commonwealth.

Purity of Elections

The election laws of Pennsylvania require mandatory provisions which will tear the screen from corrupt election officers and ballot-box stuffers, and prevent partisan servile judges from lending their judicial robes as a cloak to ballot fraud and crime.

Tax Revision

The tax laws of Pennsylvania should be revised. Taxation should be graduated so that the improvement and use of property shall be encouraged and the maintenance of idle and unimproved lands and buildings correspondingly discouraged.

In these and all other matters of common public concern, for the public weal I pledge an undivided devotion and fidelity, keeping single the thought that the welfare, the honor and the dignity of Pennsylvania are entrusted to the care of its executive, and that by no conscious act of his should its escutcheon be dimmed.

Make Your Dollars Have More Cents

In these days of retrenchment, conservation and high prices it is up to you as an individual to see that the purchasing power of your dollar is developed to the highest degree. You can't bring about this development by buying cheap merchandise at ridiculously low prices.

The Real Worth of Your Money is in the Quality of the Goods Purchased

Back of this, to make assurance doubly sure, must stand the reputation of the merchant.

The merchants of your district are your neighbors and friends. They are interested in your welfare and the development of the community. They realize that the better the merchandise and the fairer the prices the more chance there is of your money remaining in the district where it works for the betterment of all.

The Merchants of Altoona

(the center of your district), invite you to visit their stores for anything you are unable to procure at your neighborhood store, and assure you that you need have no misgivings about the quality of anything they sell, for they consider quality a strong bulwark of their business policy.

In the undersigned stores, quality will never be lowered that price may be lowered also, in order to make a so-called bargain. If the price of an article looks low, you may be certain that it is low, not because quality has been tampered with, but because of their vast purchasing power. In these stores you'll find that quality is exactly what it ought to be to make an honest value.

The heat is intense.
We haven't been visited by any infuriated Penrose-liquor lieutenant the past week. It was too hot.

Mr. Lemon from Altoona was here on Tuesday trying to come to some terms with the Council and County to fix Pitt Street. It will cost about $6000 and the state will advance its share. There ought to be something done. The street is a disgrace to the town. Some places where the towns haven't the funds the Public Safety Committee raised the money.

There isn't any question that our troops have met with many casualties during this last drive, a drive started by the German side with the intention of advancing its line of battle toward Paris, but which resulted in their utter routing and the Americans taking the offensive and wresting the whole territory from the Germans gained since last April. In a mighty offensive movement such as we have inaugurated on the German angle of defense we naturally should expect a large list of casualties not yet made public and likely not yet fully known by General Pershing himself because of the fact our soldiers are not only cared for in American hospitals but in French and German hospitals and the first and most essential thing, is to attend to the wounded and take a census afterward. The fact that our men are spread over such a long line of defense helping wherever needed and bolstering up weak places in French and British lines and being cared for in British and French, as well as our own field hospitals, makes it difficult for General Pershing to get a complete list of casualties ready in the time American people would expect it. Any list of casualties now is a mere conjecture, probably much below the true lists when it can be definitely determined.

A list of 15,000 to 20,000 American casualties in an offensive drive such as General Foch has been maintaining would be a marvelously small number, and, though we hope the figures are no greater, yet we fear a greater loss will be reported without any dismay to our people. These things are to be expected and we think our people understand the intricate situation in which our reporters are placed over seas and that accurate reports cannot be had for a great many days after engagements are entered into. The German losses have been estimated at 200,000 including 33,000 prisoners taken. "If these figures are approximately correct" says the New York World, "the total casualties of all the allies on the German salient would be at least 50 per cent and would thus reach 100,000." The Americans showing approximately 1-3 of this amount would reach 33,000. As a further reason in support of a larger casualty list to be expected is the fact that the Germans are doing nothing but falling back into trenches and fortifications previously built, being left in tact in their former advances toward Paris while our men must face new perils of building bridges and new trenches and fortifications on an offensive front.

Mailing List Corrected.

On Friday, August 2, our mailing list was corrected. Examine figures on label of paper and if you find you have not received credit for all money paid notify the Editor at once. If you find your subscription in the arrears kindly send the Editor the necessary cash to put the figures in the advance column. Let this notice be the necessary reminder. The Editor has bills coming in, therefore, we trust you will be prompt in your payments. All free exchanges as announced a couple weeks ago have been eliminated. Ministers will kindly take notice to the ruling of the War Board. We are supposed to reduce our consumption of paper 15 per cent and we want to make the effort. Many papers are requiring its subscribers to pay in advance. We kindly ask that all our subscribers make an effort to pay in advance and at least save us the necessity of postage and a notice. This will help some at least and will be appreciated and it's just as easy to pay in advance as to keep paying a year in arrears. Most of our subscribers observe this rule.

Letter from John Kauffman
Osterburg, Pa.
Somewhere in France.
July 21, 1918.

My Dear Mother and all:-
Just received your letter and was surely glad to hear from you, I'm getting all your letters so far.

I just had my dinner suppose you are getting breakfast as there is about 5 hours difference in our time. This a beautiful day the weather here is certainly fine. We had a very hard rain here last evening, it almost chased me out of my tent.

I enjoyed my trip over seas fine, we had plenty of good eats and I didn't miss one meal, I was only sick about half day and that didn't amount to much. Our trip was somewhat exciting at times but I enjoyed it. "Jerry" isn't quite slick enough for the "Yanks".

Have a good big fat turkey ready for Xmas I expect to be home about that time Ha! I am well and trust this will find all the home folks the same.

Your Loving Son
John Kauffman

On active service with the American Expeditionary Force
JOSEPH FISHER
July 16 1918.

Dear Father:-

Received several letters from you a short time ago, but delayed answering until we had moved a little closer the front so that I could tell you something about the country. The trip overland gave us an opportunity to see a part of France and a little of some cities. The country is some what hilly but not so bad as around home. We passed through a wonderful and very fertile farming district. Every bit of land is under cultivation even up with in a short distance of the fighting zone. The crops chiefly wheat, Rye, and oats looked to be very good. But the season seems to be too short and the nights too cool for corn. The buildings on the farms are all built of stone and very close together and the house and stable all in one building. You remember the old stone house, well that is about what they look like. You very seldom see a frame building. In the larger towns they are either of stone or brick. And what towns we passed through did not appeal to me, give me the U. S. A. all the time. We have been having plenty of work lately also plenty of rain. It rains morning noon and night also between times. But my chief trouble now is trying to sleep nights. With the big guns roaring in the distance. Well will close for this time hoping to hear from you soon.
Yours
Joseph

Nudges by Philip's Boy

Kill the rats. They are no benefit and a nuisance.

Rich people are more impressed by appearances than the poor.

The man with a few good acres well cultivated is richer than he thinks. The man who uses up all his earnings is not wise. Good jobs at high wages may not always last, and besides all men are growing older and older.

Late dispatches say the Turks have broken with the Germans. At this rate Germany won't have a friend on earth and very few in hell by the end of the year.

The word "egg" occurs six times in the Old and once in the New Testament. Deuteronomy 22:6; Job 6:6, and 39:14; Isaiah 10:14, and 59:5. Jeremiah 17:11, and Luke 11:12. Job asks: "Can that which is unsavoury be eaten without salt? or is there nay taste in the white of an egg?"

This story comes from France: "To one encampment where there were 5,000 negroes, Gen. Pershing sent word that he wanted 1,500 men for a particularly dangerous feat. So they lined up the 5,000 and asked every man who was willing to volunteer to take one step forward. The whole 5,000 stepped one step forward—and they had to select the 1,500. Then the men shouted the slogan: "Fast black—won't run!"

A man near Madley was recently up a cherry tree picking cherries. His young wife to play a joke on him got a big wooden doll and put her baby's clothes on it and going under the cherry tree said to the doll "Up there's your daddy." Daddy heard and kept calling, "hellow tootsie, hellow darling, look up at your daddy" etc. till he discovered the trick. Now he is awaiting his opportunity to even up, but she has her eyes open for Poorie.

Down around Mattie there is a sheep epidemic. Several farmers have lost sheep, some as high as 15 from one flock. What is causing the death among the sheep is not known except two or three of Walter Clark's. These had their heads cut off by a friendly neighbor. The heads and hides as well as the off-fallings were found in a clump of bushes but the carcasses were gone. This same practice was indulged several years ago and the same parties live in the vicinity.

Before Days of Furnaces.

Yule is an Anglo-Saxon word for Christmas, hence Yuletide, meaning Christmas time, and the yule log which used to be piled on the hearth for the making of a big, cheerful fire. The yule log was thought to bring good fortune and bits of its charred remains were saved to start the next year's Christmas fire with. But that was before the days of furnaces or baseburners.

How Many Workingmen Will Be Compelled to Learn New Trades When Liquor Business is Destroyed?

According to the last Census returns 6,616,046 wage-earners were employed in all manufacturing industries, of whom 62,920 or just about 1 per cent of the total were employed by the liquor industry.

But of these 62,920 less than one-fourth were brewers, maltsters, distillers and rectifiers.

More teamsters than brewers were employed by breweries. Of the 62,920 wage-earners employed in the manufacture of liquor, fully three-fourths were engaged in occupations which are not at all peculiar to the production of liquor. There were 7,000 bottlers, 15,000 laborers and nearly 3,000 stationary engineers.

The remainder were blacksmiths, carpenters, coopers, electricians, machinists, painters, plumbers, firemen and other mechanics.

The plea is being made that all the men who would lose their jobs when breweries and distilleries are closed would be compelled to learn other trades.

Would a teamster drive a horse any differently because his truck is loaded with groceries, instead of booze?

Does an engineer run his engine in a special way simply because it is furnishing power to a shoe factory instead of a brewery?

Does a machinist push his file in a select fashion for a distillery, or does a carpenter use a saw with special adroitness when he cuts a board for the booze factory?

Any of these mechanics would feel just as much at home on any other kind of a job in which their services were required as skilled workmen, as they would in a brewery or a distillery.

The only wage-earners who would be compelled to change their jobs are the 15,000 or so brewers, maltsters, distillers and rectifiers.

According to the same Census figures, 10,000 mechanics of various kinds are compelled every year to shift from one occupation to another on account of changes in industrial operations, or because of the invention of labor-saving machinery.

Many of these are compelled to learn entirely new trades, but this has never created a labor panic—it produced scarcely a ripple.

The shifting of the mechanics now employed in breweries would never create a labor panic at a time like this, when it is most difficult to secure enough workmen in our great industrial plants.

At present there are a greater number of persons who are suffering very much more because these men are permitted to engage in the liquor business, than these workmen themselves would suffer were they compelled to engage in other occupations.

The question is, shall all the people continue to suffer on account of the ravages of the liquor traffic in order to keep this very small percentage of men employed on their present jobs, or shall we insist that they enter other occupations in which they shall become a blessing to society instead of a curse, even though they are compelled to make this change at a personal sacrifice?

If you believe that the traffic of Alcohol does more harm than good—Help Stop It!

A BOX FROM HOME

Drawn by Gear Williams, Division of Pictorial Publicity.

Food savings of millions of Americans during our first year of war enabled this government to send enormous food shipments abroad for our fighting forces and the Allied nations. Our savings in cereals—out of a short crop—amounted to 154,900,000 bushels; all of which was shipped to Europe. We increased our meat and fat shipments 844,600,000 pounds. This was America's "box from home" to our army abroad and the civilians and military forces of the Allied nations.

SHARE OUR SUGAR WITH THE ALLIES

British Get Two Pounds a Month.
French Pound and Half,
Italians One Pound.

GERMAN SUPPLY PLENTIFUL

All Nations Permit Use of Sweetening for Home Preserving Purposes.

America's new sugar ration of two pounds a month per person is equitable when compared with the sugar ration enforced by rigid governmental order in England, France and Italy, nations with which we are sharing sugar.

Each Allied nation—in the matter of sugar consumption—is sharing on nearly equal terms the hardships imposed by greatly altered conditions in the world sugar situation.

Formerly classed as a luxury, sugar is now a war time essential. The fair and just division of this essential is in the hands of the various Allied food controllers.

The United States Food Administration has asked this nation to observe a voluntary sugar ration of two pounds per person a month.

In the other countries at war with Germany sugar is one of the scarce articles on every menu—whether in the households of both rich and poor, or in the hotels.

England today has a sugar ration of two pounds per month per person. In France the ration is a pound and a half and in Italy it is one pound a month. And the prices in allied countries are from two to three times as high as in America.

If you go to a hotel in England or France these days and order tea or coffee they serve absolutely no sugar with it. If you want sugar you must bring it with you.

In England it is allowable to use one-seventh of an ounce of sugar in the preparation of each luncheon. In France many persons carry little sacharine tablets about with them for use in hotels and in England rich and poor must take their sugar with them if they wish to have sweetened tea while visiting friends.

Before the war started France had 625,000 acres devoted to sugar production. By 1917 the French sugar acreage had decreased to 180,000 acres. Today the French man or woman with a sugar card has no assurance whatever that he or she will be able to actually buy sugar. To buy it, one must first find it.

Italy Has "State Sugar." Especially drastic regulations govern the use of sugar in Italy. Its manufacture, distribution and sale are closely controlled, and in part actually taken over by the state.

Saccharine is permitted to be sold and used as a substitute for sugar and the government manufactures a mixture of saccharine and sugar called "State Sugar," which is largely used.

German Sugar Ration Adequate. Germany, before the war, produced a great surplus of sugar and exported large quantities. Today the Germans have virtually gone out of the export business, but have plenty of cheap sugar for home use.

Wholesale prices prevalent in the Allied nations, according to information received by the United States Food Administration are as follows: England, 10 cents a pound; France, 12 cents; Italy, 20 cents.

While these high prices are being paid abroad the American wholesale price is being held at 7 1/2 cents.

LETTER FROM MARSHALL AMICK
The Willows

Somewhere in France
June 25 1918.

Dear Mother and all:

I will write you a letter to let you know I am well and hope you all are the same.

I received those three letters (dated May 3, 5, and 8, inst. Also one dated May 10.)

I also got a letter from Guys May 15. Was very glad to hear from you and find you all well. It takes about 1 month for a letter to come over. I would have written sooner but I just neglected it because we are on the move almost all the time. This sure is a pretty country. I can speak French pretty good now.

It pleases the other boys when I go along with them to town and do the talking for them. It sure is some job to buy anything in a store when you can't make them understand. Very few French can speak English. Tell Merian I got her letter and will answer it when I find time. I wish I could just write what is interesting but of course there is so many spies that one dare not say one word. I have seen quite a bit of Paris and honest I don't see anything so great like I really expected.

It is a pretty town but we have just as nice cities in the States. You can see Eifel's tower for miles. You have a picture of it with the stereos cope views. I hope this war is over long before Rush is old enough to take a hand in it. The people are making hay now and the grain will soon be ripe. They don't have wagons I mean with four wheels. They have a big 2 wheeled concern and hitch the horses one behind the other. Ha! Ha!

I am glad Grace is doing such good work I was glad to hear from her.

Tell Sax I'll let him get the Kaiser. I bought some real American chewing tobacco a couple days ago. Spearment chewing gum and chocolate. Ha! Ha! It just costs us the same here as it does back home. Of course there is no revenue on tobacco. All the small towns look alike here. The French people think there is no people like Americans. We are getting real good eats here and not being treated so very bad. We are all feeling fine. The big guns in the distance sound like thunder. Ha! Oh it doesn't take long to get used to them.

I will try and write more often in the future. I am glad Aunt Sadie is getting better. Is Lillian at home now? Tell her to write. I want to write Ray a letter just as soon as I can find time. It is hard to write in a place like this. I hope Ira has a good time in N. Y. I am glad Marian is getting along so well. She asked me in her letter what she could have out of that bunch of junk I sent home. Just give her anything she can find that would be useful to her. It is a mighty poor bunch of junk to choose from. Now take some pictures with my kodak and send them to me. I will appreciate your kindness.

Banner is still in my squad.

He is writing now.

I sure would like to be there to help eat some of the good things you cook.

If anyone mentions Strawberry short cake or something else like it why you will hear the whole bunch howl (knock him).

We have lots of fun sometimes.

I have been better satisfied since we are out this time than I have been for 3 or 4 yrs.

I know it is no use to bother about what I would like to do.

I am contented almost all the time.

I would much rather be at home but then I can't be just now, so I make the best of it and want you all to do the same.

This war won't last always so I think I can stand it awhile.

Just so you all keep well. We got paid last week. Well I will close for this time so hoping you are all well and happy, I remain as ever your loving son

Snyder's Travelette

The "J" is in her name already.

I went to the picnic at Zion School house. So many people were there and so many automobile loads that after they all alighted they had to stand on ends to make room. Had they stood cow fashion a ten acre field could not have given them half room. They had a childrens service under the spreading chestnut trees but when eleven hundred people talk at the same time and ninety-nine autoes are saying boobah there was little chance for children to be heard. Rev. Victor Roland of Butler, Pa. spoke, at least he stood and persons back a rod or so could see his lips moving. It is folly for a man to attempt to talk against a babel of voices with automobile accompaniment. When people have speaking out doors the autoes & the chin music should be roped off to a safe distance. And the stand conspicuously and properly located. And the seats high enough so peoples knees will not bump their noses when sitting. What is worth doing is worth doing right. The lemonade and ice cream disappeared in the twinkling of two eyes and people had to drink ice and watermelon juice because the water was all gone. They could have made money for the Sunday School selling water. However people had a good time seeing each other and talking. The boys and young men inspect all the machines. (They used to go around looking at the horses) and the girls looked for the young men but they are over in France or in the camps.

Next trip I will see what the Northern part of the county looks like. If I get through I'll tell the tale.
D. W. Snyder.

DEFIANCE HONORS "THE BOYS"

July 27th, 1918, is a day that will long be remembered by the people of Defiance because of the impressive exercises held in honor of her thirty-five young men that have answered their country's call.

A large "Service Flag", 10 by 15 feet purchased with money solicited by the Emergency Aid Society of the town was suspended on a rope stretched from two poles donated by the Colonial Iron Company and placed on either side of Main Street by the Evans Hotel property. Much credit for the work of getting the poles placed is due the untiring efforts of our neighbor, Jerry Dalton.

The ladies of the town also played an important part in making the exercises a success by preparing the children to render several songs.

Following is the order of service as arranged by the committee:

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, H. H. Brumbaugh who after a few introductory remarks read the names of the young men in whose names the service was held, after which the flag was raised by Miss Cathleen Dalton, sister to the first boy that enlisted from Defiance. While the flag was being raised the entire audience led by the children sang "The Star Spangled Banner". A prayer for "The Boys" was offered by Rev. Gorman followed by singing God Bless Our Men.

We next listened to a splendid address by Rev. Joseph Carr, pastor of the Catholic Church at Dudley and Defiance in which he gave the history and the meaning of the flag. Following this address the children sang, "We'll Never Let Our Old Flag Fall". Rev. Gorman, pastor of the M. E. Churches on Six Mile Run, next favored us with an address. Applause after applause was provoked as he drew from his pockets the English, the French and the American flags while speaking of the unite of purpose of Allied Countries. The closing address was made by Prof. Hinkle, Superintendent of the Schools of Bedford County and it is needless to say that he pleased his audience as was evidenced by the hearty applause and the close attention given. After singing "Keep the Home Fires Burning," Rev. Gorman pronounced the benediction and the meeting adjourned.

Following are the names of the men who have either enlisted or who have been drafted into the service: Thomas Dalton, Russell Rorabaugh, Thomas Watson, Lewood Satter, Walter Guyton, Dr. Samuel McCabe, Joseph Reddler, Rush Turner, Jessie Fleck, Thomas McElwee, Archie Satterfield, Harry Smouse, Thomas Tenley, Harry Collins, Elwood Wise, James Berkheimer, Raymond Johnson, Charles W. Johnson, Simon C. Johnson, Dorsey Cutchall, Charles McCavitt, Jacob Hoover, Cloyd Shue, James Tenley, Frank Fox, William Lloyd, James Williams, David Rogers, Joseph Geiger, Harry Whited, Frank McGahey, Carl Rorabaugh, Marshall Foster, Elmer Foster.

DEPENDENTS NEED HAVE NO CONCERN ABOUT PAY

No uneasiness need be felt by families or dependents of service men receiving allotment and allowance checks from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance if they find the checks reduced in amount this month.

The reduction is an accordance with a new system of payment adopted by the Bureau, which will standardize the amount paid through it. Additional checks to make up the full allowance or allotment will be forwarded by either the War Department, Department, Marine Corps, or the Coast Guard according to the branch in which the enlisted men are serving.

The Pennsylvania Council of National Defense and Committee of Public Safety has been informed by Washington that the change is intended to speed up payment of allotments and allowances. It will do away with a large amount of figuring in the War Risk Insurance Bureau, which will hereafter issue checks only in amounts of $15 or $20, the balance to be paid by other Government departments. Dependents are urged to write to enlisted men to find out how much they are allotting out of their pay to their families at home. They will in this way be able to learn if they are receiving the correct amount by check over and above what the War Risk Insurance Bureau is paying them.

SILAGE IS GOOD
WINTER ROUGHAGE

Particularly Valuable During Season When Animals Are Idle.

MOLDY SILAGE IS DANGEROUS

Made From Thoroughly mature Corn—Frozen Silage Also Should Be Avoided.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Good silage properly fed is a splendid feed for horses, particularly during winter when the horses are idle. Silage for horses and mules should be made from thoroughly mature corn, properly stored so that it will not mold. In many cases horses have been killed by eating moldy silage, and the careless person who fed it at once blamed the silage itself, rather than his own carelessness and the mold which really was the cause of the trouble. Horses are peculiarly susceptible to the effects of molds, and under certain conditions certain molds grow on silage which are deadly poisons to both horses and mules. Molds must have air to grow and therefore silage which is packed airtight and fed out rapidly will not become moldy. If the feeder watches the silage carefully as the weather warms up he can soon detect the presence of mold. When mold appears, feeding to horses or mules should stop immediately.

Danger of Colic.

It is also unsafe to feed horses frozen silage on account of the danger of colic. This is practically imposespecially in solid-wall silos. By taking the day's feed from the unfrozen center of the silo and chopping away the frozen silage from the edges and piling the frozen pieces in the center the mass will usually thaw out in time for the next feed.

The value of silage for horses is greatest as a means to carry them through the winter season cheaply or to supplement pasture during drought. As the danger of mold is greater in summer than in winter, silage should not be fed to horses in that season unless a large number of animals are getting it, and the daily consumption is so large as to preclude the formation of mold on the surface.

To cheapen the ration of brood mares in winter no feed has more value than good corn silage. If the grain goes into the silo with the stover no additional grain is needed for brood mares, hay being the only supplementary feed necessary. If there is little grain on the corn the silage should be supplemented with one pound of old process linseed-oil meal or cottonseed meal daily per 1,000 pounds live weight sprinkled over the silage.

Starting on Silage.

Horses to be wintered on a silage and hay ration should be started on about five pounds of silage daily per 1,000 pounds live weight, the grain and hay ration being gradually decreased as the silage is increased until the ration is 20 pounds silage and 10 pounds of hay daily per 1,000 pounds live weight. It will require about a month to reach the full feed of silage, but the period may be decreased somewhat depending on the judgment and skill of the feeder.

Mares fed in this manner will be in splendid condition for foaling, and, so far as the writer's experience goes, the foals will be fully as vigorous, with just as much size and bone, as if the

Women, Prepare

Thousands of women in Pennsylvania have overcome their sufferings, and have been cured of woman's ills by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This temperance medicine, though started nearly half a century ago, sells most widely to-day. It can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid, and every woman who suffers from backache, headache, nervousness, should take this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce's. It is prepared from nature's roots and herbs and does not contain a particle of alcohol or any narcotic. It's not a secret prescription for its ingredients are printed on wrapper.

It is now put up in tablet form for 60c. Write confidentially about your case or send 10c for trial pkg. of "Favorite Prescription Tablets" to Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

MCKESPOT, Pa.—"I found Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription equally as good as it is advertised to be. A few years ago I had a severe nervous break-down. I became very weak and thin and could not sleep, when a neighbor of mine advised me to try 'Favorite Prescription' as it had helped her. This I did, and three bottles cured me of all nervousness and I was once more in good health—thanks to this good medicine. Women who suffer as I did will find great relief in the 'Prescription.'—MRS. LESSON FOR AUGUST 11
HELPING OTHERS.

5:1-10.
 GOLDEN TEXT—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 6:2.
 ADDITIONAL READING—Galatians 5:1-10.
 PRIMARY LESSON MATERIAL—Luke 12:35-37.
 INTERMEDIATE, SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Who needs our help, and how can we best give it?
 ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Proverbs 1:17; Matthew 5:42; Romans 12:10-15; I Corinthians 13:1-13; I John 3:16-18.
 1. Being a Neighbor (Luke 10:30-37).
 The story of the Good Samaritan is Christ's answer to the lawyer's question: Who is our neighbor? He shifts the question so as to show that the supreme concern is not who is our neighbor, but whose neighbor am I? If I am Christ's, my supreme concern will be to find those who have need that I may be a neighbor to them. If we love God supremely, we shall find Him along life's highway souls who have been wounded and robbed by sin, whom we can love as ourselves. To be a neighbor is to—
 1. See those about us who need help (v. 33).
 Love is keen to discern need. Let us be on the lookout for those in need of our help.
 2. Have compassion on the needy (v. 33).
 Christ's pity was aroused as he came into contact with those who were suffering and in need. All those who have his nature will be likewise moved.
 3. Go to those in need (v. 34).
 Many are willing to give money to help the poor and needy, but are unwilling to personally minister to them. Many times the personal touch is more important than the material aid. We should give ourselves as well as our money.
 4. Bind up the wounds (v. 34).
 Many indeed are the wounds today which need our attention.
 5. Set the helpless ones on our beasts while we walk (v. 34).
 This is a proof that the love is genuine. Christians will deny themselves in order to have something to give to those who have need. This kind of sympathy is greatly needed today.
 6. Bring to the inn and take care of the unfortunate (v. 34).
 Genuine love does not leave its service incomplete. Much Christian service is spasmodic; helps once and then leaves a man to care for himself.
 7. Gives money (v. 35).
 It costs a good deal to be a neighbor. Love is the most expensive thing in the world. It cost God his only Son; it cost Christ his life. May we go and do likewise!
 II. Living and Walking in the Spirit (Galatians 6:1-10).
 Those who are freely justified in Christ will conduct themselves as follows:
 1. Restore the sinning brother (v. 1).
 Restore is a surgical term which means the placing back of a dislocated member to its place. We are members of the body of Christ, and the sinning of a brother ought to as really give us pain as the dislocation of a member of our body. This service is to be done in the spirit of meekness, lest we also be tempted.
 2. Bear one another's burdens (vv. 2-4).

Cutting oats is the main business among our farmers at present.

Ed Harmon and family of Dividing Ridge spent Sunday afternoon in the midst.

Dan Rose and family of Johnstown Sundayed at the P. A. McCrea home.

Leo Imgrund who under went operation for appendicitis at the Mercy Hospital at Johnstown several weeks ago returned home on Thursday improved but very weak yet.

Ross Weyant and Nelle Bence moved to Schellsburg Saturday evening.

W. H. Deaner and wife spent the week recently visiting friends at Johnstown.

Samuel Sarver and family of New Buena Vista were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Weyant on Sunday.

Elmer McKinney left yesterday for the U. S. Navy yard at New York where he enlisted as a machinist in the navy.

Work horses when idle can be wintered satisfactorily in this manner, but much silage is not recommended for horses at heavy work for the same reason that a driving horse cannot do his best while on watery grass pasture.

SHARP GRIT OF IMPORTANCE

Necessary for Proper Digestion of Fowls' Food—Place in Box Handy of Access.

Fowls cannot digest their food well unless they have clean, sharp grit and it is usually best to keep a box of the regular commercial grit, sold by poultry supply dealers, in each pen of the hen house during cold weather when the hens cannot get outside and search for pieces of coarse gravel, etc.

SEPARATE HOUSE FOR GEES

Farmer Should Be Careful to See That Floor Is Dry and Well-Bedded With Straw.

Be sure that the shed for the geese (which should be separate from the poultry house, duck house and turkey shed) has a dry, well-bedded floor, for geese will not do well unless they have a dry resting place.

HIGH PRICES TEMPT FARMERS

Not Only Induced Many to Sell Pigs at Light Weight, but Breeding Animals Marketed.

The extremely high prices of grain feeds and market hogs have not only induced farmers to market their pigs at light weights, but have tempted many of them to cash in on a large number of their breeding animals.

Ed. D. Heckerman Sells An Ointment Called San Cura That is a Positive Relief.

It matters not how old, persistent or poisonous the sore is, San Cura Ointment the powerful antiseptic will draw out the poison and promptly heal the sore.

So sure of this are the owners, the Thompson Medical Co., that they have authorized Mr. Heckerman to return the purchase price if San Cura Ointment doesn't do all this paper says it will do. No fairer offer was ever made.

B. D. Dutton, Titusville, Pa., says: "My arm was covered with twenty-four running sores and swollen to twice its natural size. San Cura Ointment relieved the pain, drew out the poison and healed the arm in an incredibly short time. It is the greatest compound for healing I ever used."

The healing powers of San Cura Ointment are little short of marvelous. It gives relief, and is guaranteed to help salt rheum, eczema, bleeding, itching or protruding piles, ulcers, boils, carbuncles, chapped hands and chilblains. In cuts, burns, scalds and bruises, it allays pain and is healing. 30c, 60c and $1.20 a jar. By mail on receipt of price, if you druggist is out of it or does not keep it.

suffering and sin. Christ is the supreme burden-bearer. When we do this we fulfill the law of Christ.

3. Bear our own burdens (v. 5).

There are peculiar burdens incumbent upon each one to bear. These burdens cannot be borne by others.

4. Support teachers of God's Word (vv. 6-8).

It is incumbent upon those who are taught in the Word of God to give of their means for the support of the teacher. To repudiate this obligation is mockery of God, for he ordained that they who preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel (1 Cor. 9:14).

5. Be earnest in well-doing (v. 9).

Some fail of the reward because they give up when the goal is about to be reached.

6. Work for the good of all men (vv. 10).

The one who is free in Christ will have sympathies and interests as wide as the race. He will especially strive to help those who are members of Christ's body.

True Service.

There is no service like his that serves because he loves—Sir Philip Sidney.

Vaunteth Not Itself.

Put a seal upon your lips, and forget what you have done. After you have been kind, after Love has stolen forth into the world and done its beautiful work, go back into the shade again, and say nothing, about it.

A Paradox.

It is one of the happy paradoxes of spirit that without dependence there can be no independence, and that precisely in proportion to our faith will be our intellectual and moral activity.

DEFIANCE

The festival held in the grove back of J. H. Little's store on the evening of July 27th at the close of the raising of the Service Flag was a success. It netted a nice sum for the Emergency Aid.

Another festival for the benefit of the M. E. Church at this place was held on the evening of August 3rd which also was well patronized.

Prof. O. R. Myers of Juniata College visited folks in Defiance, Monday of this week.

J. H. Little, Guy Turner and H. H. Brumbaugh were at the county capital on business last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes have returned to Defiance after a short visit with friends out of town.

Dr. and Mrs. Fax, Mrs. Mary Bidle, Mrs. Emory Fax, and Master Johnson Breneman of Roaring Spring were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Brumbaugh July 31st. They brought with them: Mrs. Brumbaugh's father, Mr. John Mohr who will remain in the Brumbaugh home for several weeks.

SALEMVILLE

Misses Susie and Ella Burket of Fredericksburg spent last week visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Mrs. S. E. Rock and children and Miss Vera Negley of Altoona who had been spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Walter have returned to their respective homes.

Quite a number of our townspeople attended the Evangelical Camp Meeting at Pine Hill during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. King and Mr. and Mrs. F. R. King and daughter Elizabeth, motored, to Huntingdon on Sunday where they spent the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fetter and family were Sunday visitors in Altoona.

Mr. J. H. Baker is putting new pipes to convey the water to his farm buildings. The old wooden pipes were bored and laid by Mr. Abram Burket and son of Martinsburg in 1867. In removing these it was found that some of them across a swamp still contained the original bark of the tree after being imbedded for the period of 51 years.

BARLEY CORNER

Quite a number of our folks attended Camp Meeting at Pine Hill last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Longenecker and children of Juniata were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burger Ritchey Saturday night and Sunday.

A Bird in the Hand

(Special Information Service, United States Department of Agriculture.)

TURKEY RAISING NEEDS A BOOST, TOO

Turkey Meat is Made Largely From Insects and Farm Wastes—A Paddle Fastened to the Wings Keeps Hens From Flying Over the Fence.

TURKEY RAISING
GOOD SIDE LINE

Requirement of Range Usually Limits Production of Big Fowls to Farms.

BRONZE VARIETY IS POPULAR

Birds Are Especially Adapted to Grain and Stock Farms Where There is Ample Ranging Ground
Abounding in Feed.

For those who are favorably situated for raising turkeys, a more profitable side line scarcely can be found. Plenty of range is necessary to raise turkeys, so this usually limits the opportunity to the farms. Turkeys are included in the department of agriculture's program for increasing poultry production, and specialists of the department point out how and where increases can be obtained.

Turkeys are especially suited to the grain and stock farms where there is ample ranging ground abounding in such turkey food as grasshoppers and other insects, weed seeds, waste grain such as is left in the fields after harvest, and nuts of such varieties as beechnuts, chestnuts, pecans, pine nuts and acorns. On such farms the present prices of grain affect the turkey raiser but little, for with the exception of what is used at fattening time the feed consumed is largely of such a kind as would otherwise be wasted.

Raise More Turkeys.

With but little additional outlay to the farmer many more turkeys could and should be raised, federal specialists say. The small number of turkeys per farm in the United States is surprising. According to the census of 1910, which is the latest that has been taken, only 13.7 per cent of the total number of farms reported any turkeys at all, and on those farms reporting turkeys an average of but slightly over four breeding turkeys was found per farm. Some farms by nature of the crops grown on them or because of unfavorable surroundings are not adapted to turkey raising, but most farms could easily handle a breeding flock of from 10 to 15 hen turkeys and a tom, raising from 75 to 150 each year at a good profit.

Throughout the middle West, where most of the turkeys are raised, it is unusual to see a flock of more than 50 on a farm, although in Texas, where more are produced than in any other state, flocks of several hundred are rather common. In sections of the Southwest and on the Pacific coast a few persons have engaged in turkey raising on a large scale, rearing a thousand or more every year. There are not, however, enough turkeys raised on the Pacific coast to supply the local demand. This is true also of the Atlantic coast states.

Owing to the fact that the Bronze turkey is the heaviest, it is more popular among turkey raisers than other varieties. Since turkeys are sold by weight the heaviest birds bring the greatest returns. When a large number of people are to be served, as in hotels, restaurants, and boarding houses, the demand is for heavy turkeys. For family use the demand is for small or medium-sized birds. Unless they are to be marketed locally among customers who demand small birds, it is far more profitable to raise the heaviest. Regarding other characteristics, it is quite generally asserted that the Bronze is the hardest variety, that the Bourbon Red and White Holland are the most domestic, and that the White Holland is the most prolific. These qualities are possessed in different degrees by individuals of every variety, however, and can be developed by proper management and careful selection of breeding stock.

Work of Turkey Hen.

A turkey hen that begins laying in the middle of March will usually finish laying her first litter early in April, her second late in April, and her third litter about the third week in May, depending upon the number of eggs she lays and the promptness with which she is broken up on becoming broody. Some turkey hens can be made to lay four or five litters, but this is not usually advisable as pullets hatched later than June do not have a chance to develop for the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets and are not sufficiently mature the following spring to be used as breeders.

Turkey hens can easily be broken of their broodiness by confining them for two or three days to a coop with a slat bottom. They will mate soon after being let out of the coop and begin laying in about a week. Turkey hens and chicken hens usually are used to incubate turkey eggs, although incubators are quite generally used where turkeys are raised on a large scale.

KILL HENHOUSE PESTS.

The louse and mite-infested hen is handicapped. It cannot do its best at laying eggs or gaining in weight. It cannot utilize its feed to the best advantage.

Clean and disinfect the poultry house.

Use insect remedies freely.

This will stop a waste of feed.

The chickens will feed better.

You will get more eggs as a result of the little extra trouble necessary.

Farmers' Bulletin 801 of the United States department of agriculture tells how to get rid of poultry pests.

When War Invaded The Air

THE eyes of the army were first set in the sky when the French Revolutionary forces, using the first war balloon, won the battle of Fleurus, 1794.

It was a Montgolfier balloon, the type the Montgolfier brothers developed from Cavallo's crude experiments in 1766 with hydrogen-filled pig bladders.

Goodrich follows the flag into the sky.

One hundred and twenty-five years after the first war balloon, the battles of the air find not only Goodrich Dirigibles and Montgolfier balloons in the thick of it, but also—

Some Large Tree

Samuel Mellett, who owns and lives on the Judge Logan farm in Ayr township, recently cut a white oak tree in the grove along Cove Creek, in the rear of his residence, which made four good cuts of eleven and twelve-foot lengths. When sawed, it yielded two thousand seven hundred feet of marketable lumber. Several switch ties were secured from the limbs, and more could have been obtained had not some of the limbs broken when the huge tree struck the ground.—Fulton County News.

County Commissioners, Nevin Diehl, and T. C. Bradley, Clerk. G. R. Shuck, and attorney John N. Minnich attended the State Convention of County Commissioners at Pittsburgh this week. They went in Mr. Minnich's car.

Bright Winck, of near Mattie a son of John Winck, was seriously injured while attempting to jump from a moving automobile. When he jumped he fell on his head and fractured his skull which rendered him unconscious for several hours.

Harry Richeson, of Marklesburg was struck by lightning and killed and his barn burned last Sunday night during a severe storm.

Saxton had a storm last Sunday night. The Brethren Church was struck by lightning and badly damaged and the barn of Robert Boyer was struck and burned.

The P-Nut Factory closed down Tuesday because of the hot weather. We suppose the candy wouldn't stay on the plate.

Thos. P. Beckley and son of Alum Bank, received on Tuesday a carload of Registered and Grade Holsteins cows and heifers. Also, a few registered young bulls. They are for sale.

Charles H. Gordinier, A. M., Ph. D. has been elected principal of Millersville State Normal School to succeed P. M. Harbold, A. M., Ph. D., resigned.

Ross Diehl is being congratulated by every one. Twin baby daughters arrived this week at his home. Ross will have to slaughter more pork this year. We are also informed that three families of Scotchfields at Mann's Choice, all related, each had a baby Wednesday. This warm weather is conducive to excessive births.

Fred Arnold, of Bedford has been severely wounded again in action in France. Fred was wounded last spring but recovered and went back into action. He displays the pluck of a major. We hope he will recover from this wound as quickly as he did from the former one.

The Dental offices of Dr. H. R. Brightbill will be closed until Monday August 19. Dr. Brightbill starts to Baltimore tomorrow morning on a little business trip.

We received word that Ira Amick has arrived over seas.

SUGAR ALLOTMENT CUT STILL FURTHER

Move Necessary in Order to Feed Our Boys Now on French Battlefields.

STRICT COMPLIANCE URGED

Grocers Must Keep Track of Sugar Needs of Customers in Order to Insure an Equitable Distribution.

New Sugar Rules in Brief.
One-half pound per person per week is the new individual allotment for the home.
Retail grocers are notified that their August allotment will be lessened.
Two pounds for each 90 meals served is the new allotment for hotels, restaurants, clubs, etc.
Manufacturers using sugar in less essential industries will be further limited in their sugar allotments.
Sugar for canning and preserving will be available on certificate issued by the grocer.
Any person attempting to "beat the regulations" runs the risk of having to go without sugar entirely. But Mr. Hoover believes public sentiment will stop the hoarder who is thus proving his willingness to help the Kaiser.

"The retail grocer is hereby notified that his allotment of sugar for August will be lessened in amount and will be delayed in getting to him. Therefore, he must make his present supply go as far as possible under this new ration of one-half pound per person per week."

Howard Heinz, U. S. Food Administrator for Pennsylvania, made the above positive statement in connection with his vigorous comments on the new sugar regulation, rationing individuals at the rate of one-half pound of sugar per person per week.

"The U. S. Food Administration has now asked the American people voluntarily to ration themselves to the consumption of not more than one-half pound of sugar per person per week. This has become necessary in order that we may have sufficient sugar to supply our soldiers and to maintain the meagre sugar ration that our Allies have been drawing for the past few months.

No Boats to Carry It.
"We are also so short of boats which have been carrying raw sugar from Cuba that we cannot maintain our normal supply of sugar. I have no doubt that the American people again will demonstrate that they are willing to comply with whatever is asked of them, if it will help to win the war. This voluntary rationing will mean self-denial and sacrifice of what many have regarded as a luxury; but it certainly will not cause suffering or effect the health of any one.

"The American people have stood solidly behind Mr. Hoover in his requests, because he has been fair and reasonable, and because they believe that he knows conditions before demanding or asking anything of them. I feel that they will, therefore, now immediately see in how many ways they can assist in saving sugar by the use of substitutes and by using less sugar in everything.

"In order to insure every person getting his one-half pound a week, everybody must co-operate by using not to exceed one-third their normal consumption. The consuming public must fall in line and conform quickly and systematically to this new regulation.

"No person in a city is permitted to purchase from the retailer more than two pounds of sugar at one time, or in the country more than five pounds at one time. This means that the grocer should keep track of his customer's sugar wants, so as to perfect an equitable sugar distribution.
"Public opinion must be aroused to such an extent that it will be positively a disgrace for any one to attempt to obtain or to use more than the allotted amount of sugar. Certainly no one will be helping the Kaiser more than the person who willfully disregards the voluntary rationing plan laid down by Mr. Hoover."

Everybody Must Save.

"It will require saving on the part of every man, woman, and child of our 105,000,000 population daily to make our present supply last; for if we should continue at our normal rate of consumption, we would have a sugar famine within a few months.
"All the less essential industries, including candy manufacturers, bottlers of drinks, makers of ice cream, and even bakers have been limited in the quantity of sugar they are permitted to use. Because of the small amount of sugar allotments, some of these manufacturers already have found it necessary to close their plants. Many are using substitutes in making confections and are adopting other methods that will save sugar.
"All hotels and restaurants and public eating places are rationed on the basis of two pounds for every ninety meals served, effective at once. If they exceed this ration their supply of sugar will not be renewed. It is, therefore, absolutely essential that they keep a daily record of the number of meals served, so that the records may be audited by representatives of the Food Administration in time."

"It must be understood that any one desiring to use sugar for canning and preserving may obtain it by making application to his grocer. Any one, consumer or dealer, found to be abusing the canning and preserving certificate to obtain sugar for regular household consumption, will have his entire sugar supply cut off.
"Many persons are using the cold-pack method of preserving, so as to avoid the use of sugar. The Food Administration will be glad to furnish the recipe for this method to any one desiring it."

THE operator is human; she makes mistakes, though not frequently. She has womanly feelings and qualities and is affected by kind or sharp words as any one of us. She has swung a tremendous war-made telephone traffic in a way to put many who boast of their war-time activities to blush—and she is still at it, holding down the job like a "man" or "woman," as you please.

This young woman, with her nimble fingers and keen mind, is weaving the talk threads so necessary in our present great National task; she is to be regarded as human and not as a machine.

The stress of these rush days, the wear and tear and grind, sometimes tell on our nerves and are reflected in our manner as we telephone. It should not be, for these are times, surely when the "voice with a smile wins."

Let us all remember the telephone operator and the part she is playing, and be gentle and courteous in our relations with her.

The Harvest Is On

Advance crop reports indicate a wheat production equal or nearly so to the bumper crops of 1915

931 million bushels or more is the estimated farmer's response to the war necessity for increased production.

Our armies and our Allies shall not look to us in vain.

We are producing and conserving that their needs may be fully met.
